FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 1, 2008

Wolverine Tube (Canada) Inc. acquires the assets of Kamco Products, a Division of Granby Steel Tanks.

London, Ontario: Wolverine Tube (Canada) Inc., North America's leading manufacturer of high quality copper tube to the plumbing, municipal, heating and air conditioning markets, has entered into an agreement to acquire the assets of Kamco Products, A Division of Granby Steel Tanks. The acquisition was completed on November 1st, 2008.

Kamco Products is North America's leading manufacturer of coated copper tubing for oil, gas, potable water and various industrial applications. Mr. Brad Sigouin, the original founder of Kamco, has returned to oversee the transition and integration of Kamco at Wolverines facility in London, Ontario. Together, Mr. Sigouin and Wolverine Tube (Canada) Inc. share unequalled knowledge of the copper industry and the natural gas, fuel oil and potable water industries.

Wolverine Tube (Canada) Inc. is excited at the prospect of expanding into new sectors of the Heating and Air Conditioning industry with the Kamco line of coated copper products. Kamco's commitment to superior quality, service and innovation aligns well with Wolverines management philosophy and vision for the future. Kamco will accelerate its sales growth by utilizing Wolverines 50 years of experience serving the copper industry by providing highly competitive products. Wolverine and Kamco are looking forward to working together and pioneering industry innovations which will exceed their customers expectations.

Effective November 17 2008, the Kamco operations and order desk have been transferred to Wolverine Tube (Canada) Inc. in London Ontario. You can place your Kamco orders by calling 1.800.891.0800, or fax at 1.800.216.7266 or 519.455.9238

Kamcos' unique line of plastic coated copper tubing provides exceptional corrosion resistance against the elements in the LP/Natural Gas, Fuel Oil and Municipal or residential water service applications.

Wolverines' reputation and unparalleled service in the copper tube industry are but two reasons why they are an industry leader in copper tube fabrication and product offering.

Together, Wolverine Tube (Canada) Inc. provides all of your requirements for bare and coated copper tubing for unique or everyday applications.

Wolverine Tube (Canada) Inc. is controlled by The Roycap Merchant Banking Group, a Canadian based restructuring and financing institution. Roycap is pursuing investments in middle and later stage companies.

We look forward to providing you a wider product selection at industry competitive prices.
